Half of Bituminous Coal Miners Remain Away From Workings

End of Mourning Holiday Finds Many Men Choosing Idleness

Pittsburgh, April 7 —(AP)— Heeding demands of union leaders to stay away from mines until safety conditions, about half of the nation's 400,000 bituminous miners remained idle today after elapse of the six-day mourning period for the Centralia, Ill., mine tragedy.

The situation was roughly 200,000 miners idle and 200,000 back at work.

In the vital Pittsburgh production district coal output was but 25 percent of normal.

Production was likewise low in other big coal areas. A comparatively few mines were operating in West Virginia, leading coal producer, which had about 90,000 men idle.

Eastern Ohio mines were closed and a United Mine Workers official expressed belief Ohio's deep mines, employing 15,000 to 16,000 would remain shut until federal reinspection.

17,000 Idle In Illinois

In Illinois, about 17,000 of 20,000 United Mine Workers were idle, but almost all of the 11,000 Progressive Mine Workers there worked.

About 50 percent of Alabama's 20,000 miners returned to work. The mine shutdown was reported "almost complete" in districts of Kentucky, including Harlan, as well as Tennessee and Virginia. Kentucky's 50,000 UMW miners were idle.

During the mouring period called for the Centralia mine disaster, many UMW leaders urged the miners not to return to mines until they were certified as safe.

The Solid Fuels Administration office in Altoona, Pa., announced that some mines in the big central Pennsylvania field were closed, but that these included pits which "don't operate anyway on Easter Monday".

A navy spokesman at Pittspurgh reported that a "good many" mines in his area were working, including "some which had been declared hazardous". The latter were certified as safe after corrective steps were taken.

"Safe" Mines Remain Down

Among the eastern Ohio mines staying closed were two at St. Clairsville which were certified as safe by a federal mine inspector yesterday.

The work stoppage called by John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, in memory of 111 miners killed in the Centralia blast, was over at midnight last night. Reports from the field, however, showed wide confusion and uncertainty as to what mines were scheduled to reopen.

Industrial sources were loath to comment on what the effects of a prolonged work stoppage would be. Plants, generally, got through the mourning period with little disruption because of adequate stockpiles. But a continued lack

Red Assault on Marines Detailed

Tientsin, April 7—(AP)—The Chinese government today ordered evacuation of all residents within 1,000 yards of the Marine ammunition dump at Hsinho, where a surprise Communist attack Friday night killed five Americans.

A marine request to extend U. S. defense lines to that radius was approved.

A Chinese official meanwhile gave the first detailed story of the red assault as he said Maj Gen. Samuel Howard commander of Marines in north China, described it to him:

Two marines were on guard at the entrance to the sprawling, triangular dump. They were killed in the first red attack from the dark.

Three other Marines rushed in a jeep to aid their comrades and likewise were killed.

Reinforcements Ambushed

The stored munitions were mostly heavy artillery shells but the raiders loaded some of them on pack animals. They escaped with some shells and blew up some ammunition before they withdrew.

Approximately 80 marine reinforcements were summoned from Tangku, five miles away. Land mines and a road ambush delayed them and wounded 16, but all are believed recovering.

A Chinese government battalion went after the Communist raiders, who left six of their number dead and were believed to have approximately 100 wounded.

40 Persons Injured as Pennsy Train Is Wrecked in Indiana

Columbia City, Ind., April 7 —(AP)— The Pennsylvania railroad's Gotham Limited train carrying more than 300 passengers was wrecked at 11:12 a. m. today at a street crossing in South Columbia City, injuring at least 40 persons.

An Indiana state trooper at the scene said no one was killed outright and none of the injured appeared in critical condition, although "three or four were seriously hurt."

K. E. Berkins of Fort Wayne, the brakeman, said the train apparently just jumped the track. The only car to overturn was a pullman. Most of the injured were taken from it."

Mrs. Paul Lake of Decatur suffered minor injuries.

Two hundred seventy five passengers were left stranded temporarily by the wreck on the Pennsylvania main line.

The train was en route from Chicago to New York via Pittsburgh.

"Portland" Derailed

Ganger, Wyo., April 7 —(AP) — Four cars of the Union Pacific Northwestern eastbound streamliner City of Portland were derailed yesterday in a collision with a freight train, injuring eleven passengers.

The cars remained upright and officials said the injured were treated at the scene for bruises and cuts from glass of broken windows and then resumed their trip when the train continued east two hours later.

A railroad spokesman said the freight had run through a block signal instead of stopping until the streamliner had cleared the mainline.

Some New Students to be Barred at U. of I.

Champaign, Ill., April 7—(AP) —President George D. Stoddard of the new University of Illinois has estimated that about 25 per cent of new students likely to apply for admission in the next two years will have to be denied "because of lack of staff and facilities."

Stoddard, in a statement made Saturday as the Illinois Budgetary commission, a legislative group, completed financial talks with university officials, said that even a proposed $60,000,000 budget for the next two years "will not permit the university to admit all the new students likely to apply."

State Sen. Everett P. Peters (R-St. Joseph), commission chairman, said he was "convinced that the lowest amount at which the university can be operated during the 1947-49 biennium is $60,000,000."

Molotov Raps U. S. Policies in China

Moscow, April 7—(AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov noted today that United States troops still were in China and said that this raised doubts as to "willingness to fulfill the obligations" undertaken under the Moscow agreement of December, 1945.

The Soviet news agency Tass distributed the text of a 600-word letter Molotov sent Secretary of State George C. Marshall in reply to the latter's March 16 suggestion for an exchange of written information on China.

Dixon Home 'Phone Company's Service Not Hit by Strike

However Only Emergency Long Distance Calls Can be Accepted

Harry L. Bates, general manager of the Dixon Home Telephone company, said this morning that the nation-wide telephone strike this morning would not affect the company's lines in this immediate area, although long distance service outside the area served by the company is cut off except for emergency calls.

He said that the strike would not affect local service, and that the company's lines to towns in the county and such other points as Oregon and Freeport in this immediate area would be open as usual.

ILLINOIS SITUATION

Chicago, April 7.—(AP)—The telephone strike has resulted in local as well as long distance telephone service being drastically curtailed in 141 Illinois communities served by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

All long distance calls placed through Illinois Bell throughout the state were reduced to an emergency basis, while local Illinois Bell service was cut to emergency use in 85 towns in the suburban Chicago-Joliet Elgin-Hammond area and 56 other towns throughout the state having manual exchanges.

Service on Chicago local calls continued as usual. The independent Chicago Telephone Traffic Union, with 9,000 Chicago local operators, voted an extension of its contract for 30 days and has stated it would not recognize picket lines set up by the striking unions, which are affiliated with the National Federation of Telephone workers.

Local service outside Chicago was normal in cities having dial exchanges, including Zion, Aurora, Frankfort, Joliet, Alton, Manteno, Peoria, Champaign, Urbana, Decatur and Springfield.

Local service was limited to emergency use in cities with manual exchanges, including all Chicago suburbs except Evanston; Naperville, Lockport, Cairo, Centralia, Effingham, Mount Vernon, Vandalia, Canton, Kankakee, Watseka, LaSalle, Moline, Rockford,

Coin Collectors Out; Pay Phones May Fail

New York, April 7—(AP)—Coin box telephones provided a perplexing problem today for telephone company officials as maintenance men who normally collect the coin boxes joined the nationwide strike.

A coin box fills when $25 in nickels, dimes and quarters have been placed by callers and additional coins are automatically ejected.

The New York Telephone company said it knew which pay phones were the busiest and that an effort would be made to keep these operating. The company said it would not survey the city, however, and that some pay stations therefore would not work.

Mrs. Marion Horn, president of the traffic employes association, representing 13,000 New York operators, left local strike headquarters at 10 a. m. to do a strike survey of Westchester county. The reasons for the trip, she said, was that she couldn't reach union officials there by telephone.

Millions Pause for Prayer on Second Easter Since War's End

(By The Associated Press)

On the second Easter of peace since the ending of global hostilities, worshipers throughout the world paused for prayer yesterday in centuries-old, commemorative services of the Resurrection.

In the Holy land, the half-lighted corridors inside Jerusalem's church of the Holy Sepulchre—where 16 Christian faiths worship—were crowded as monks and priests directed the rites.

At the altar in front of a replica of the tomb of Jesus, Latin Catholics ended their Holy week with pontifical high mass. Several thousand Jews prayed at the wailing wall on the second day of passover.

The Holy land, scene of violence and political strife, was quiet as the three faith's worshipped.

Throughout Europe, the day was marked by prayer and few persons participated in the traditional parade of fashion finery—a sharp contrast to the scene in New York City, where an estimated 1,250,000 persons paraded under clear skies and in 74-degree weather in Manhattan's largest Easter style show.

A pontifical high mass at St. Peter's Basilica in Rome was attended by most of the diplomatic corps accredited to the Holy See.

Inclement weather kept the avenues free of strollers in many European countries, including sections of England, and an Easter snow-storm fell in Moscow, where the holiday comes next Sunday by the orthodox calendar.

Crowds of Americans gathered on river banks and mountains, in parks and stadiums, and at other places throughout the nation for sunrise rituals, marking the dawn of another Easter.

Regular church services later drew millions to houses of worship.

Winds Cause Minor Damage Here

Some Lines of INU and Phone Company Felled During Storm

14 Planes Damaged at Rochelle; Flood Waters Are Subsiding

High winds which buffeted Easter hats this week-end caused scattered damage in Dixon and the surrounding territory, a survey conducted by The Telegraph showed this morning.

Only major damage reported occurred at Rochelle, where 14 planes and hangars at the airport there were upset and damaged by the storm.

The Illinois Northern Utilities Company and Dixon Home Telephone Company reported scattered damage throughout the area, but added that no major breaks in service occurred during the storm.

The I. N. U. office here reported that Rock river rose approximately one foot over the weekend, but the level here now was reported to be only nine-tenths of a foot above the normal level for this time. Green River, in south-

GOP to Disregard Truman's Talk and Slash Taxes – Taft

Washington, April 7 — (AP) — Senator Taft of Ohio declared today that the Republican-controlled congress will disregard President Truman's "political timing" and cut both taxes and government expenses this year.

Taft, who heads the Senate Republican policy committee, told a reporter he regards as a "purely political statement" the president's assertion in his Saturday night Jefferson day address that the Republicans are headed toward "false economy."

"The president's budget will be cut," Taft said. "Estimated revenues are going to be larger. Taxes can be cut and a large surplus left to apply on the debt for which the Democrats are suddenly much concerned after 14 years.

"If we don't cut taxes now," the Ohio senator continued, "the spenders will soon find new ways to spend and spend and elect and elect."

Political Timing"

Truman told his audience of Democratic party members he recognizes frankly that the present tax burden is too heavy to be considered permanent, adding:

"At a proper time I will support tax reduction and tax readjustment designed to reduce the

Critics Seek to Temper Aid Bill

Washington, April 7 — (AP) — Senate critics sought anew today to narrow President Truman's doctrine of world-wide aid to "free peoples" by writing into the Greek-Turkish bill a proclamation against intervention in any other nation's civil strife.

With the senate expected to start debating the $400,000,000 stem-communism measure Wednesday Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), spear-headed a drive for non-intervention amendment even though it already has been rejected by the foreign relations committee.

Johnson's proposal would state in effect that the United States in extending aid to Greece and Turkey, is not establishing a policy under which it will feel called upon to intervene in the troubles of nation's elsewhere. It also would reaffirm American intentions to submit to the United Nations all future disturbances involving world peace.

The president reiterated his Jefferson day dinner address Saturday night his doctrine of "aiding these peoples whose freedoms are endangered by outside pressures."

He did not mention Russia by name, although the senate committee heard testimony from administration officials that Greece is threatened by Communist-directed guerrillas and Turkey by Soviet pressure from without.

Dan Cupid Revives in Blitz Campaign

After a Lenten season lull which saw only 16 marriage licenses issued in the office of County Clerk Sterling Schrock during March, Dan Cupid has opened up again with a blitz campaign.

Four marriage licenses were issued Saturday, and one of the couples, William Cicchetti and Elizabeth L. Fane, both of Dixon, was married Saturday evening by Justice of the Peace J. O. Shaulis in his office.

Others receiving licenses Saturday were Joseph W Clark, Thomas, Ill., and Dorothy A. Bramer, East Grove; Harold E. Zordy and Elwyna Hill, both of Dixon, and George Carlson and Thora H. Josephson, both of Dixon.

Austria Must Give Back All Property, Four Powers Agree

Moscow, April 7—(AP)—The four powers agreed in the committee working on the Austrian peace treaty today that Austria must restore to Jewish and other owners property taken from them in the German control period for racial and religious reasons.

It also agreed that, in cases where restoration was impossible, compensation would be paid.

These agreements, restricted by the usual string of reservations and minor amendments, came as word spread among the western diplomats that Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of Russia was preparing a new blast at the American-British reparations policies in Germany when the inter-allied reparations agency report comes up in the council of foreign ministers.

Authoritative circles said U. S. Secretary of State Marshall would press in the council for restoration to German control of eastern farm lands now under the Polish administration.

This would involve revision of a previous agreement of the Big Four setting the boundary between Germany and Poland on the Oder and Neisse rivers. The United States delegation was reported to view such a revision as highly essential to a balanced economy in Germany—a thickly populated, highly industrialized country now short on food producing lands.

Hot Fight Forecast

Any such proposal was deemed certain to become one of the hottest political issues of the current conference to draw up German and Austrian peace treaties. The Poles are strongly against losing any territory they have taken over. The Germans are just as strongly in favor of getting back all they can.

In the event this controversy comes to a head in the ministers' council, say some observers, the big power on the hottest spot would be the Soviet union, which

Boy Struck by Car Yesterday in Head-Long Church Flight

A boy about 10 years old, sketchily identified as "Osborn" by local police and purported as residing at 1006 West Third street, was struck by a car driven by Edward Shippert, 521 College avenue at 11 a. m. yesterday as he ran out of the Congregational church, 313 Van Buren avenue, between parked cars.

Shippert was driving north on Van Buren when the boy struck the side of his machine and was thrown to the street.

Shippert immediately stopped and removed the boy from the pavement, assisted by Daniel Webb, 1811 West First street. He then drove to the Osborn residence, where it was reported the boy was not seriously injured.

At 12:30 p. m. yesterday autos driven by John "Red" Vaile and a Mr. Swanlund of Rockford collided at Galena avenue and Third street. Vaile's car sustained a damaged left front fender while Swanlund's left rear fender was slightly scraped.

Another crash occurred at 7:15 o'clock this morning at the Freeman Shoe Co. plant on West First street. Oscar Penniston, 913 Jackson avenue, discharged a passenger at the factory and was pulling away from the curb when his auto was struck by a Ford sedan operated by Melvin Schmall, 306 Eels avenue.

Both machines were considerably damaged although neither driver was injured.

Only Emergency Calls Being Transmitted By Supervisory Workers

Strike in Brief

Washington, April 7—(AP)—Here's the telephone strike in brief:

STRIKERS—The National Federation of Telephone Workers and 39 of its affiliated unions called the strike against the Bell System. The NFTW claims 287,000 members, with an additional 50,000 in unaffiliated unions affected.

ISSUES—Strikers demand wage increases of $12 weekly. The government says average weekly pay is now $43.19. Union also asks union shop and other concessions.

NEGOTIATIONS — The union proposed arbitration of all issues on a nation-wide basis. Management proposed arbitration only on wages and on a company-by-company basis in the Bell System.

SEIZURE — Attorney General Clark has ruled that President Truman has the power to seize the telephone companies. Top administration officials were reported against taking any such action immediately.

(By The Associated Press)

Long distance telephone operations throughout the nation were cut to 20 per cent of normal today a few hours after union telephone employes began a coast-to-coast strike, the American Telephone & Telegraph Company announced.

The report, based on a survey of 14 cities in mid-morning, was issued in New York City, nerve center of the communications world. The strike began at 6 o'clock.

Still unaffected were dial telephones, which serve about 60 per cent of the nation's telephone users, leased wire service to press, radio and teletype operations.

The report by A. T. & T. also showed this comparison of long distance operators now on duty

Emergencies

New York, April 7—(AP)—The Bell Telephone System defines as "emergecy calls", for priority handling on nondial local exchanges and long distance lines, the following:

"Calls in connection with fire, flood, wreck, tornado, riot, serious accident, or illguess, death, or any disaster, emergency requiring the aid of police, fire department, hospitals, doctors, ambulances or life-saving service, militia or other government authorities and calls from utility companies in connection with power or pipeline failures".

Grid Fixer Gets Year Prison Term

New York, April 7—(AP)—Alvin J Paris, convicted in January of attempting to bribe two New York Giants professional football players to throw their Dec. 15 championship game with the Chicago Bears, was sentenced today to one year in the city penitentiary.

Paris, 28, a florist and novelty concern operator, was sentenced by General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit after District Attorney Frank S. Hogan requested he be shown utmost leniency because he had given valauble service to the state and made possible the convictions of others involved in the bribe attempt.

Paris was the state's principal witness at the trial of David (Pete) Krakauer, 44; Jerome Zarowitz, 32, and Harvey Stemmer, also convicted of attempted bribery in connection with the same game. Krakauer and Stemmer were sentenced last week to five to ten years in prison, and Zarowitz received an indeterminate penitentiary sentence with a maximum of three years.

Paris was found guilty of attempting to bribe Merle Hapes and Frank Filchock, New York Giants backfield players, in an effort to get them to throw their game.

Hapes and Filchock were suspended indefinitely from playing professional football by Bert Bell, National Football league commissioner.

Birthplace of Plane Still Has It Doubts About Travel by Air

Kitty Hawk Residents in Firm Belief World is No Better Now

BY HAL BOYLE

Kill Devil Hill, N. C. —(AP)— The airplane has made a bigger impression on the outer word than it did in the sand dune country where it was born.

The Wright brothers ushered in the air era here 43 years ago last Dec. 17, but some people along the sea coast still think it was a crazy idea.

They feel that the whole experiment was a big mistake. They laughed and shook their heads then. They don't laugh now, but some still shake their heads.

Only two men are living of the small volunteer crew of Coast Guardsmen and hangerson who helped the "mad brothers" from Dayton, O., wheel their flimsy boxkite contraption into position for the takeoff — a flibberty flight of a few seconds that changed war and peace forever.

Snubbed Invitations

Capt. John R. Daniel of the Coast Guard is old, feeble and retired. Johnny Moore, a young duckhunter who gave aviation one muscular push and forgot it, is an elderly fisherman who still lives over the dunes in a frame house set in a small clearing.

His proudest moment came when President Hoover, visiting the naval sites of American airpower, said to him musingly:

"So you are little Johnny Moore".

Residents of the nearby villages of Kitty Hawk and Manteo thought so little of the possibility of men ever flying that none accepted the Wright's invitation to attend the 1903 demonstration. No newspapermen were present.

Miffed, the brothers tried to ban reporters from their next trials here in May, 1908, but several newsmen watched from dunes a half mile away. Public interest had risen.

Reporters Had Trouble

When one English reporter tried to hold the only telegraph wire out of Manteo by having the telegrapher send pages torn from a magazine, another reporter threatened to brain him with a chair. The reporters sent their copy in turn after that.

Byron Newton, later assistant secretary of the Treasury, was specifically assigned to the story by the publisher of the New York Herald. When Newton conscientiously reported for several days running that the Wright machine was flying successfully he was suspended for six weeks without pay for "faking".

The disbelieving Cleveland Leader wired another correspondent:

"Cut out wild cat stuff".

Still Unchanged

Wilbur Wright, himself unaware of how fast aviation would grow, told a correspondent that in his opinion no machine could ever be made to fly across the ocean until something better than a gasoline engine was developed to drive it. A little boy named Charles Lindbergh wasn't old enough to refute him then.

Telegrapher Alpheus W. Drinkwater, 71, who still has the "bug" with which he sent out the news of the Wright flights in 1908, shares his wife's doubt about the airplane.

"I think it was a pity it was ever invented", said Mrs. Drinkwater, who has never been in one.

"Well, it has done some good", said Alph, who dislikes flying although he has been up a few times.

"Yes, but we could have done without it", replied Mrs. Drinkwater, and took up her tatting.

DAY by DAY ON THE AIR

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

(Central Standard Time)

New York, April 7 — (AP)— What's already begun to happen to those comparatively few radio fans turned televisioi followers may be only a forecast of things ahead. That is, if the same reaction maintained the radio audience progressively may melt away as television in the home increases.

Such a tendency has had its beginning at least in the New York area, where three picture stations are operating and the tele-fans are growing at a faster clip than almost anywhere else.

A sort of one-man survey brings to light such comment as:

"When a television show is running, our radio set is silent".

"I'd lots rather watch television, even an old-time film, than listen to the radio".

"Why, its almost like going to a fight, anyway a lot better than having someone else tell you about it".

"After you've seen television, something seems missing in radio. Makes one feel like watching a silent movie".

If this were a concensus, then the conclusions could be that television generally takes a precedence no matter the type of program, nor how popular might be a radio broadcast.

It all tends, too, to bear out this comment attributed to Gen. David Sarnoff, long a leader in television: "Some day, no one will want to listen to a program he can't see".

Based on a survey made for CBS the total number of radio homes in this country is now given as 35,900,000, representing 93 per cent of all homes and 1,902,000 higher than a year ago. Home operated receivers were totaled at 52,500,000, counting the one out of three families having more than one set ..Change for tonight's CBS theater version of Alexander's Ragtime band at 8 replaces Margaret Whiting for Alice Faye. Crash Victim's Body Found in Wreckage

Chicago, April 7 —(AP)— The body of John F. Manierre, a 44-year old Chicago lawyer who crashed in his plane on a mountain side in West Virginia March 25 was reported found yesterday by two boys who joined a military searching party.

W. A. Magie, a friend of Manierre, said the army notified Mrs. Manierre from Elkins, W. Va., early today that the body of her husband was found in the plane wreckage.

The plane had crashed into the mountainside at an altitude of 3,000 feet about 25 miles east of Elkins, Magie said the army reported.

The lawyer, recently appointed attorney in the Chicago office of the Federal Communications Commission was enroute to Washington on government business when a snow storm closed in on him shortly after taking off from Huntington, W. Va. He was flying his own light plane.

The army said the two boys had joined in the search for the body after having noticed military planes circling over the area.

Besides his widow, Rachel, Manierre is survived by a son, John, Jr., 17, and a daughter, Meda, 15.

Perseverance

Chicago—(AP)—Just when Detective John McCarthy was giving up the search for a reported prowler at a housing project his hat blew off.

Flashlights of three fellow officers probed the darkness until the beam of one finally centered on the hat in a corner of the building. Also standing in the light was the prowler.

"That was a brand new Easter hat", said McCarthy. "We just had to find it".

Death Ends Role of Postmaster at Santa Claus, Ind.

Santa Claus, Ind., April 7 — Postmaster Oscar L. Phillips, believed by thousands of children to be "the real Santa Claus" because he answered their Christmas letters, died Saturday of a heart attack.

For 12 years, Phillips, 57, and his helpers had handled Christmas rush mail totalling as many as 4,500,000 pieces in one season. They stamped Christmas cards and gift packages with the famous "Santa Claus" postmark, and answered every letter written by children.

Phillips, a former blacksmith farmer and state highway department employee, became postmaster in 1935, after the death of James Martin, who first earned the title of "Santa Claus" of Santa Claus, Ind.

Martin was a ruddy-faced jolly man who actually resembled Santa. But Phillips seldom played St. Nick in person. He had a sallow complexion, and while he was slightly stout, he couldn't fill out a Santa Claus suit without a few pillows for stuffing.

But the children flocked to Phillips anyway. He often bought them candy and ice cream at Easter or Christmas. His own five children found great delight in the fact that their father was Santa Claus' chief ghost writer.

So many letters poured into the tiny postoffice from Nov. 1 through Christmas every year that Phillips and the American Legion co-operated in a plan to answer the flood of mail. They sent a form reply for each letter bearing a return address.

Youngsters were promised that another "Santa Claus" would be on hand to answer their letters next Christmas. Walter Van Winkle, a friendly man who worked with Phillips in the postoffice was appointed "acting chief Santa Claus of Santa Claus, Ind."

Guidance Service Now Available for Veterans in Area

Veterans of Dixon and Lee county may now receive guidance services in the selection of their training courses through the Veterans Administration.

These centers have been established with the aim of aiding the veteran to select the kind of training which will prepare him for the work for which he is best suited, as determined from his chief interests and abilities. These services are free to all veterans but do not include travel and other personal expenses.

Veterans guidance centers of the VA nearest Dixon are located at Rockford, Moline, and DeKalb. It is advisable for veterans to confer with these educational experts at guidance centers. Knowledge gained at one of these establishments will often save considerable time in aiding one to select the work he most desires. Also, one is more liable to succeed in a course that has been chosen in this manner.

Dixon veterans wishing this kind of service should confer with A. M. Arehart, VA contact representative, 118 Hennepin avenue, who will give assistance in arranging for one of these interviews. Quite often, the entire time to complete the tests and interviews conneced with the guidance program will be completed within one day. Sometimes, a second day is required in order to complete the entire program within the guidance center.

U. S. Fire Losses Still Rising in '47, Experts Discover

Committees of experts preparing data for the President's Conference on Fire Prevention are faced with the fact that America's fire losses for 1947 are rising. Losses for the first two months of this year already have exceeded last year's losses for the same period by more than 20 per cent.

Losses so far this year totalled $121,939,000. Losses for the 12 months ended February 28, 1947, were $581,347,000, the greatest this country has ever known. This exceeded by nearly $20,000,000 the highest annual fire waste the nation has ever experienced, $561,980,000.

No fire disaster has taken a large toll of lives in 1947 to compare with the tragedies of the Winecoff and LaSalle hotel fires last year. Yet the death toll is mounting steadily because of the thousands of smaller fires occurring throughout the country.

The fire prevention conference which President Truman has called to Washington on May 6, 7 and 8, will be the first organized national effort ever made to combat the fire menace that delays recovery after every war. State and municipal authorities will join with fire protection experts, scientists and others in studying ways to reduce the death toll and keep property damage at a minimum. Fire experts say that, if losses follow the same trend as they did after World War I, the destruction will reach a billion dollars a year by 1953.

To gather data for the conference, the coordinating committee appointed by the President is conducting a nation-wide survey of fires, their causes and fire losses over the last five years. More than 1,000 cities are included in this survey. Data are being obtained through the fire department in each city.

Work of the conference is being done by six committees, Building Construction, Fire Prevention Education, Fire-Fighting Services, Laws and Law Enforcement, Organized Public Support and Research. These committees' reports will form the basis for the conference work.

Major General Philip B. Fleming, Federal Works Administrator and Administrator of the Office of Temporary Controls, who has been appointed General Chairman of the Fire Prevention Conference, is directing the assembly of data on which the conference will act.

Amboy Unit Fourth Competitor in Home Bureau Show List

The Amboy Afternoon unit of the Home Bureau becomes the fourth contestant in the display contest being sponsored for units of the Home Bureau in Lee county by the Rock River Production Credit association. A description of the units display, which will appear in the association's office window for two weeks, and the theme, follows:

"Our exhibition is of a variety of articles which have been made with what we had in our homes, making the articles economically useful and our homes more attractive. By working together under the guidance of the Home Bureau we have been able to accomplish many worthwhile things for economy, such as: making dress forms, caning chairs, making rugs from discarded clothing, knitting afgans from yarn scraps, making gloves, making vanity sets from lace dresses which were no longer wearable, and refinishing furniture.

"Many of our members as a pastime crochet, knit, and tat many garments and articles which prove to be an economical aid in the comfort and beauty of the home. We, as Home Bureau members, get a great of social pleasure and satisfaction in attending our unit meetings held once each month and look forward to special treats such as: the all-county meeting in July, the picnic in August, the annual meeting in November, and the annual turkey supper in February which our unit sponsors for our husbands who enjoy eating it as much as we enjoy preparing it for them.

"Through Home Bureau we are able to have the Blue Cross Hospitalization Plan, the Safe Home projects, Recreation Training Schools, health lessons, flower arrangements, and many other worthwhile programs through the year."

"We are assisted in these various activities by a specialist from the extension department of the University of Illinois. As an aid in preparing girls for good homemakers and better citizens of tomorrow, the Home Bureau sponsors the girls' 4-H Club work."

SALOONS CAUSE DELINQUENCY

No wonder they have less of it in Iowa. Take for instance the town of Newton, which is about the size of Dixon, with no saloons that sell hard liquor and three public houses where beer is sold. Their windows are free of posters which give the public a clear view of what is going on inside.

Evidently public officials in Newton are seeing to t that their city ordinance is being lived up to. Quite the contrary to our little city.

A Balanced Advertising Medium!

The circulation structure of the Dixon Evening Telegraph is also impressive in its entirety . . . but total circulation, although impressive would be unproductive unless it covered all three of the divisions in the above illustration. Planned many years ago, this form of balanced coverage is the policy of this newspaper today, and it is assured by the Audit Bureau of Circulations whose reports prove that The Dixon Evening Telegraph has a practical 100% coverage in the city plus an even larger number of subscriptions amongst the farmers and the homemakers in the surrounding communities.

Austin's Explanation

The speech on American aid to Greece and Turkey by our UN representative, Warren Austin, was a persuasive denial that President Truman had bypassed the United Nations in this matter. His point was that Mr. Truman's action had simply passed the UN—passed it as a modern fire truck would overtake and pass a handdrawn horse-cart on the way to a fire.

Perhaps some will wish that the fire truck had sounded its siren a little louder at the moment of passing. But the fact remains that the President was convinced that a fire had started and fearful that it might get out of hand.

Mr. Austin's explanation of all this said nothing new. In fact, by omitting reference to the military aspect of the President's program, he said somewhat less than Mr. Truman. Nevertheless, he gave a clear, reasonable and conciliatory review of the situation calculated, to reassure his own country and those nations represented at Lake Success.

The fact is, however, that the UN commission in Greece has been there for some three months. It has not yet started to write its report. The situation on the Greek borders remains tense. Greece has been living largely on British funds and Britain no longer can afford to foot the bill.

As Mr. Austin pointed out, the International Bank is not yet functioning, and Greece might not be considered a good credit risk if it were. Further, there is the recommendation of the UN's Food and Agriculture Organization, which Mr. Austin quoted, that Greece apply to the United States for funds for essential food and other imports.

The case of aid to Turkey is something else, and Mr. Austin really bypassed that phase of the Truman program. Since he obviously had been instructed to ignore the military angle, there was little else that he could do.

To those at home and abroad who have accused Mr. Truman of war-mongering imperialism. Mr. Austin gave a pointed reminder: "The program will have been fully and exhaustively debated by Congress and the whole American people before Congress takes final action. Congress must make the decision."

Mr. Austin forcefully reaffirmed America's desire for world peace, world freedom, and success of the United Nations. And he as forcefully implied that the U. S. government does not relish the role proposed by the President and that it will rejoice when the day comes that the United Nations can take over this and similar burdens.

Mr. Austin's speech surely has given American and world opinion a better understanding of Mr. Truman's program. It is not unlikely that the UN representative has also increased the likelihood of its acceptance and success.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

(Copyright, 1947, By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Washington — A new liberal movement has come out of three months organization work and two days of policy sessions (250 attended) here. President of this "Americans For Democratic Action" is Wilson Wyatt, let go by President Truman as houser. Chairman is Leon Henderson, let go by the president as OPA price fixer. Vice Chairman is Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., who never got anywhere to be let go from.

To answer the yearnings of world millions of people, these leaders, who are now to let themselves go into concerted promotional action, set forth a formula which read:

"Our program is directed toward this one goal: A society in which each individual enjoys the highest degree of personal liberty compatible with liberty, justice and economic security for his fellows".

Read that over again! What does it mean? It might mean Republicanism because they seem to be angry at Mr. Truman. Yet that is highly doubtful because they do not specify they are for this government as is. It might mean democracy (not democracy) because young Mr. Roosevelt says it is against the way this Republican congress has been going. It might mean both, as he also suggested they would support more Democrats than Republicans. But it could not be both because this group proposes an independent action movement. Under its own definition, it could be Communistic because the Russian dictatorship believes only in as much freedom from the individual as is compatible with the freedom of other citizens, meaning none at all. But the group denounces communism specifically, so it cannot be that either. Could it mean nazism or fascism? Hitler and Mussolini believed in only so much freedom for the individual as is compatible with "liberty, justice and economic security for his fellows", which also meant none at all.

But this action movement also denounces fascism so it cannot mean that.

Actually it could mean slavery of nearly any kind. Slavery has been maintained in varying degrees on the principle generally that it was not only compatible with, but necessary for the freedom, justice and security of the enslavers.

A proper explanation of the movement probably is that it is entirely disillusioned ideologically and does not know what freedom is. This is plausible as its leaders are officials let go because their theories did not work satisfactorily, and they in turn are part of a larger new deal group which attempted to appease an unwilling world into oneness. Now that their ideas have proved unworkable they wish still to be politicians but cannot find an issue which might be made popular, and really have vague and confused ideas about liberty and liberation.

They are like the furrier who painted signs on the street corners asking "Zit—what is it"? intending to furnish the answer (the address of his place of business) a few days later. The only difference is these people do not yet even know the answer.

Their confusion about personal liberty sounds as foolish as a character impersonating Jefferson in a movie last week who said: "Ah, he is". Liberty actually means the right to laugh at such a definition of freedom. What he said simply was not true. You are not necessarily as good as another man. You are more apt to be worse, or better, in any given line. Few people actually are born equal. All the Constitution means is that people are born equal before the law, that justice shall be equally dispensed, not by warfare of class against class — or that "I am as good as you". Jefferson wrote a basic law, not a treatise on psychology or religion. He really only said: I have the legal right to be "as good as you"!

Some are born rich or poor, crippled or whole, intelligent or dull, slow or fast. The freedom guaranteed them is freedom of their persons, their right to make their way, freedom of their property, their intellect and being. The equality guaranteed is equality before law. All this it not an absolute natural purism. It does not propose that the dull shall be made bright, or that everyone both bright and dull shall be be made half-bright— which was the basic confusion of the new deal. These constitutional legal rights were made compatible only with the necessities of common decency.

U. S. Aid Promises Pass $7 Billions in the Next 15 Months

Sen. Byrd Calculations Exclusive of Proposed Greek Aid Plan

Washington, April 7 — (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D., Va.) has added up the money to be laid out by the United States under its international commitments in the next 15 months and announced the total is $7.043,100,000.

This is in addition to 400 million dollars requested by President Truman for Greece and Turkey to halt the spread of communism. Byrd based his total on budget bureau figures compiled at his request.

The largest item is 2 billion 850 million dollars still available to Brtains as of March 1 out of their 3¾ billion dollar loan.

Relief to Top Billion

The other items in Byrd's total on budget bureau estimates:

Funds requested by the President for relief in liberated countries—350 million dollars.

Relief in American occupied areas of enemy countries — 1 billion 120 million.

Export-Import bank loans, excluding 500 million dollars earmarked for China and smaller sums for commercial type loans—$944,100,000.

Philippine aid—663 million.

Final settlement for UNRRA—552 million.

Free transfer of surplus war properties to foreign countries—207 million.

Completion of this country's investment in the International bank —159 million.

Participation in the international refugee organization—75 million.

Maritime commission ship transfers—73 million.

Direct assistance to foreign countries from military supplies—50 million.

(The United States had 9 billion 279 million dollars outstanding in loans to 58 foreign countries at the end of 1946, statistics supplied by the commerce department showed recently. This total included the 3¾ billion dollar gift-loan to Great Britain.)

Pledges to Europe Told

Some congressional critics of the President's Greek-Turkey program have demanded to know what other foreign commitments this country has. That phase may figure in senate debate scheduled Wednesday.

Listing some of these commitments, the state department said a total outlay of 2 billion 999 million dollars had been pledged to European countries, of which 1 billion 962 million had been spent. It reported additional credits of 152 million "are under consideration."

In this latter category, it listed possible export-import bank loans of 28 million to Austria, 20 million to Czechoslovakia, 19 million to Germany, and 6 million to Hungary.

Credit Sales Planned

Other outlays would involve sales of war surpluses on credit, with the expectation that the United States eventually would be repaid.

The United States already has been helping Turkey and Greece.

The state department report showed a 25 million dollar Export-Import bank loan to Turkey as well as 5 million for maritime ship transfers.

A credit of 25 million dollars has been set up for Greece with the Export-Import bank and 45 million for ship transfers.

De Gaulle Back in French Action for Battle With Reds

Return Signalizes Bitter Conflict on Communist Control in France

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Affairs Analyst

General Charles De Gaulle, woo recently has been showing marked signs of hitting the return-trail for the political leadership of France, yesterday made a pronouncement of solidarity with America in terms which will be widely interpreted as subscribing to President Truman's policy of aiding countries whose independence is threatened by communistic aggression.

If that's what the General has in mind, it's a highly important development. It would mean that he is throwing down the gauntlet to the French Communists who are straining every nerve to take over the government of France and are his chief opposition. His strength lies in the powerful middle-of-the-road popular Republican movement—which polls about the same number of votes as the Communists—and in the more conservative groups.

Talks at Strasbourg

General De Gaulle made his declaration at Strasbourg in the course of a speech paying tribute to American soldiers who died to help liberate his country: It is interesting that the night before Truman reaffirmed his new foreign policy in his Jefferson Day address. Without naming any country or ism, Mr. Truman said of this burning subject:

"We, like Jefferson, have witnessed atrocious violations of the rights of nations .. We, too, have declared our protest. We must make that protest effective by aiding those peoples whose freedoms are endangered by foreign pressure ..We know how the fire starts. We have seen it before—aggression by the strong against the weak, openly by the use of armed force and secretly by infiltration..

Must Guard Peace

"Our responsibility is to stand guard before the edifice of lasting peace which, after so long a time, is at last being built. That edifice is the United Nations..By aiding free natios to maintain their freedom we strengthen the United Nations in the performance of its functions".

Yesterday De Gaulle declared his country would stand beside the United States against any new tyranny.

"It is a fact", he said, "that this young nation (the United States) like our elderly country, has shown not only love for its own liberty but, still more, a respect for that of others..It is a fact that each time in the world that justice finds herself assaulted a lould alarm at once awakens the French and American sonsciences. Our two democracies have always found the same and powerful inspiration when they have had to defend threatened liberties".

Returns to Arena

Now of course De Gaulle may not have been responding to President Truman's Washington address. However, there's no mistaking the Frenchman's pledge to stand with America against any new tyranny. There is nothing equivocal about that statement, and he has had plenty of time to absorb the world-rocking Washington policy regarding aggressive communism.

De Gaulle has no official position now. He created a sensation and threw France into poltical confusion when he resigned the presidency on Jan. 20, 1946, because the Communists and other leftists defeated his plan for a constitution which would provide for a strong executive. The opposition wanted a weak president and a strong assembly.

Since then De Gaulle has, Achilles-like clung pretty close to his tent. However, the signs are that he once more is ready to give battle: If this is so, it will be a bitter conflict in which communism is bound to become the main issue. If France should go communistic it would give Moscow one of the most formidable bases on the European continent—in the world, for that matter.

Take the Laughter

WELL, she was happy now at last. Nothing could ever change these past few months of perfect joy. She had found life now, and life was Tony.

As soon as Joyce got the divorce they would be married. Sherry was living in New York to be near Tony, meanwhile.

Now he was at the studio, and there was still part of the morning and a long afternoon to be gotten through by herself.

Sherry crossed to a window and looked out. You could see a long distance from the top floor of the important hotel where she was staying, and the park spread before you like a wonderland in white. There were skaters on the lake, their bright-colored caps making cheerful splotches amidst all the whiteness.

Sherry thought it might be fun to go down and practice. Tony was teaching her to ice skate and it would be nice to surprise him by her improvement, but then nothing was really fun without Tony. It was nicer to stay indoors and daydream about what their life would be like after they were married; and then too, Kris might come any day now.

Marcia had written that he was in Hollywood, a flying visit on a big picture deal, and that she was in a spot.

"What should I tell him?" she had wanted to know, and Sherry had written back, "The truth! He must stop and see us on his way through New York." And Tony had agreed with her.

TONY'S picture was progressing splendidly. Sherry had read the script over and over and thought up bits of business and interesting shots, and changed lines here and there. They said at the studio that Dietrich was showing unexpected genius.

Now she just had another idea. She decided to read the script again, and reached toward the blue-covered copy on the low table.

There was a knock and Sherry called, "Come," and turned to the door.

It opened slowly and a girl came in. Sherry knew who she was. She was very pale and wore a mink coat. She closed the door behind her and stood still.

She said, "I'm Joyce. I told them downstairs that you expected me. I'm sorry."

Sherry said, "I know," and then, "It was better this way. Come in," but she did not get up.

Joyce walked over slowly. She held her handbag tightly and was trying to keep her teeth from chattering, you could see that.

Sherry said, "You're cold. Sit by the fire."

Joyce tried to smile.

"I don't think it's that kind of cold," but she sat down on the other davenport and pushed herself back twice until she could lean against it. She kept her elbows tight at her sides, and her eyes were blue.

She said, "You look just like I thought."

Sherry said, "You do too."

They were quiet for a minute. Then Sherry sucked in her breath between clenched teeth and made her voice sound even.

She said, "I suppose you want Tony."

Joyce tried another smile and spoke dully.

"Yes—I want Tony. It'd be silly to say I didn't—but he's yours. He told me that before we were married. It was because I was like you that he—"

She swallowed hard and looked at the fire for a minute. Then she raised her chin a little and turned back.

"I came along the divorce Sherry. There wasn't anyone else to tell me what to do. You—you know Tony better than I do—you'll know what's right, and—and I can't seem to think any more."

JOYCE stopped suddenly and when Sherry looked at her she was leaning back with her eyes closed and her face was like wax. Sherry had never seen anyone look so sick.

"Joyce! Are you ill?" she wanted to know, and got up and went over to her.

Joyce said, "I—I shouldn't have come in the morning. I'm sick in the mornings."

She leaned forward and laid her head on the arm of the davenport and breathed deeply for a minute with her mouth open.

The room swirled around Sherry and everything went dark. In that moment she was as sick as Joyce. Then she collected herself and slipped off Joyce's coat and took off her hat, and laid one of her cold hands on the girl's damp forehead. She said, "You're pregnant, aren't you?" very evenly. And Joyce said yes.

"I won't give him up," Sherry told herself, "not for anything—ever," and she went over to the window and looked down at the white park and the skaters in their bright caps.

Joyce was talking about the divorce now. How she couldn't get it by naming Sherry as co-respondent, and drag them both through that. They were all important people with careers.

Sherry thought, So Joyce had been thinking of her—of her and Tony.

Joyce told her about attorneys and the different laws in different states, and how a quiet California divorce on desertion would make it years before Sherry and Tony could marry. They wouldn't like that, would they?

"Then the baby," Joyce was saying. "Should Tony know now and get used to it? Or would you rather tell him after he's born? You see it's up to you to decide. . . . You're really Tony's wife—I'm the 'other woman.' You'll know what's best."

DAR Awards Pins to 6 Girls for Citizenship

Members of the Dixon chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held their April meeting Saturday afternoon at the Loveland Community House. Mrs. Z. W. Moss, regent, presided at the business meeting and announced the election of Mrs. H. C. Warner, Dixon chapter member, as state historian at the recent convention in Chicago.

Attendance of over one hundred Good Citizenship Award winners at the convention was reported by Mrs. George W. Lindquist. Out of this group, one girl was selected to go to the national congress. A Savannah high school student was chosen as this year's delegate.

Annual presentations of D. A. R. awards and Good Citizenship pins to six high school senior girls elected for the honors by members of the student body and faculty of their respective schools were made by Miss Dorothy Armington. Girls receiving the recognition were: Patricia Ann Curran, Dixon; Janice Hoff, Mt. Morris; Dorothy Hussey, Franklin Grove; Nancy Michael, Lee Center; Lea Peterman, Oregon, and Louis Coffy, Pilo.

Mrs. J. D. Charters of Ashton gave an account of the life of Stephen Foster, American composer whose songs, according to the speaker, are really his autobiography. A trio comprised of Mrs. George Curran, Mrs. Golden Calhoun and Mrs. Charters sang a group of Foster selections. Accompanied by Miss Laola Quick, they concluded their portion of the program by singing "Trees".

During the social hour winners of the awards and their members were introduced to the members. An out of town member, Mrs. Wilbur Hutchinson of Chicago was present at the meeting and with Mrs. Warren G. Murray poured at the tea table which was decorated with Easter flowers.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. A. F. Moore, Mrs. Claude Horton, Mrs. E. A. Jones, Mrs. Helen Ransom, Mrs. Morey Pires, Miss Josephine Nichols and Miss Carrie Swarts.

burden to the needs of a peacetime economy."

Taft said this statement indicates to him that Truman has "political timing" in mind.

In his speech Truman took the Republicans to task—naming them directly—when he said:

"Any substantial reduction of the 1948 federal budget, as submitted to the congress, must be clearly understood as a venture into false economy."

More Money and Personnel

Taft said, on the other hand, that the Republicans are going to find ways of reducing expenditures without crippling necessary government functions.

of the vital bituminous fuel would be a different matter.

The troubled situation in the coal fields sprang from Lewis' determination not to send his men into mines he branded unsafe. He demanded all but two of the 2,531 coal mines be closed until federally inspected. Interior Secretary Krug refused.

That exchange largely called the orderly process by which the 518 mines the government called unsafe were being certified safe by joint agreement of operators and union safety committees. Union district leaders took the position that only federal inspectors could pronounce the pits safe.

Calls on Governors

Meanwhile, Secretary Krug called on the governors of 15-coal mining states to "correct dangerous conditions" in 162 mines out of the government's reach because they are not federally managed.

ern Lee county, was reported to be spilling over its banks at some points most creeks and ditches were filled and many fields were under water after the heavy rains which preceded the wind storm.

Some Windows Broken

Some windows were broken and limbs and branches were broken in Dixon during the storm. A window was broken Saturday night in Spurgeon's store building, 113 First street, and a window was broken in the Burmeister building, First street and Hennepin avenue. The winds also broke a window in the Dixon Transit company building on North Peoria avenue.

Elsewhere in the city, a chimney was reported blown off a Dixon avenue home and minor damage to windows and doors was reported this morning.

Hangars Total Loss

The high winds which hit the Rochelle airport at 8 p. m. Saturday night wrecked 14 hangars there and dumped the planes inside on their backs. The hangars were reported to be a total loss.

Further estimates of the damage was held up for some time because the winds were whipping pieces of sheet metal about the field, making walking at the airport dangerous. As a result, estimates on the damage to the planes are not available. No damage was reported at the Dixon airport.

Eight of the planes were owned by the Rochelle Flying Service and the remainder were privately-owned, it was revealed. State Police Officers J. F. McIntyre and Robert Burrs investigated the damage at the field.

The I. N. U. reported that service interruptions both here and throughout the area were only momentary and were caused by lines whipping together and by falling branches which in some cases knocked down lines.

The telephone company estimated damage about equal to that caused in the snow storm of two weeks ago, and said that lines to Polo and Freeport were out of service Sunday, but were back in operation now. No other lines out of Dixon were reported out of commission. The company estimated that most of the damage would be repaired by tomorrow.

Crews Work Overtime

Both I. N. U. and the telephone company reported that repair crews worked through the night Saturday and all day yesterday.

An I. N. U. company tower was toppled near Kewanee, but an entire new tower was transported from Chicago and set up there by a crew of approximately 200 workmen immediately, it was reported, to restore service there.

No reports of damage to county roads had been received in the office of County Superintendent of Highways Fred Leake this morning. Black top roads in the county are still posted, and will remain so for several days, it was said.

The heavy wind cut freakish capers west of Sterling, where a giant sign advertising the city of Clinton at the intersection of routes 2 and 30 was ripped apart and carried across the highway, while another sign on the opposite side of the intersection was untouched.

Floods Subside

Floods which forced thousands of persons from their homes into a throw-back of wintry weather over the Easter weekend either were receding or cresting today but with continued "quite cool" temperatures forecast for most of the stricken areas.

The Chicago weather bureau said no additional rainfall was in pospect for any of the flooded areas but that nothing more than "warming tendencies" could be expected during the next 24 hours.

In Michigan, hit by its worst flood in history, Flint and Lansing were in a state of emergency. Flodwaters which inundated a large portion of southern Michigan over the weekend apparently had passed their crest. Three deaths were reported in the wake of gales which leveled telephone communications in many sections of the state.

Supervisors Man Boards

Supervisory employes stepped in to provide emergency service where long distance and local services were affected.

An estimated 340,000 workers, demanding $12 a week pay increases and other contract changes, made the walkout nationwide at 8 a. m. (CST) when employes of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company quit in Los Angeles.

The strike, first nationwide telephone walkout in American history, began in the east shortly before 6 a. m. (CST)—the official deadline—and spread westward for three hours as the deadline time marched across the nation.

President Joseph A. Beirne of National Federation of Telephone Workers (Ind.) officially announced the strike was on at 4:55 a. m. (CST).

New England Comparatively Free

The large urban areas of the east and middlewest were hardest hit, although New England was comparatively free of the strike.

Dial systems remained in operation and company spokesmen declared such phones could operate for a long time without maintenance work.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Company said there were 31,600,000 telephones in service in the United States, of which 18,700,000—approximately 60 per cent—were dial.

The union proposed arbitration of all issues on a nationwide basis. Management proposed arbitration only on wages and on a company-by-company basis in the Bell System.

At the root of the telephone dispute are ten union demands which the industry says would cost $700,000,000 a year. The cost figure compares with $250,000,000 industry earnings in 1946. Workers now average weekly salaries of $43.19.

100 Percent Effective

In New York City, nerve center of the communications world, The American Telephone & Telegraph Co., said the strike was "100 percent effective" in the long lines department after pickets took up their posts at 4:50 a. m. (CST).

A company spokesman at 6:15 a. m. (CST) said that the strike was effective in Rochester, Syracuse, Binghamton, Elmira, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, both offices in Washington, D. C., Providence, R. I., Boston, Newark, Charleston, W. Va., Baltimore and Elkton, Md.

In Philadelphia striking NFTW workers threw up picket lines around telephone exchanges at 5:02 a. m. (CST).

The state of New Jersey seized the 204 plants of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., at 5:12 a. m. (CST), 12 minutes after union spokesman announced employes had gone on strike.

Situation By States

The situation by states:

New York—Picket lines were formed around at least five upstate New York Telephone Company buildings as upstate members of the NFTW and the Empire State Telephone Union (Independent) joined the strike. The strike was 100 per cent effective in the New York City long lines department.

Michigan—Picket lines formed outside telephone exchanges in Detroit at 4:30 a. m. (CST) and supervisory personnel was handling service calls on an "emergency only" basis.

Ohio—Union employes in Cleveland touched off the walkout.

Georgia—A union spokesman said pickets sufficient "to maintain an orderly and effective strike while observing the law" were planned in Georgia, which recently enacted a law banning mass picketing. The Atlanta police department said it had police posted at all company buildings.

Pennsylvania—The strike spread west from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh where picket lines were established before company buildings shortly after 5 a. m. CST.

Missouri - Kansas—Workers in the Kansas City area left their jobs and picketing began shortly before 6 a. m. (CST).

Nebraska—Northwestern Bell Telephone Company workers left their jobs and established picket lines.

Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota — Nearly 8,000 members of the Northwestern Union of Telephone Workers went on strike. Management personnel was trying to provide service to approximately 100 towns isolated by a snowstorm in western Minnesota and eastern North Dakota.

Wisconsin—The Telephone Guild of Wisconsin said all the state's Bell System plants struck at 6 a. m. A spokesman for the Wisconsin Telephone Co. advised the public there was "no possible assurance emergency calls would be completed".

Iowa—The Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. said approximately 800 management personnel would try to do the work of approximately 5,000 workers on strike in the state.

Kentucky—In Louisville, 2,150 out of 3,000 employes struck.

Indiana—Long distance lines were operating in the state with operators on the job.

Illinois—Local service in Chicago and about 10 large downstate cities having dial phones were unaffected. Local service was on an emergency basis only in more than a dozen large cities having manual service. The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. reported 924,904 dial phones and 1,193,230 manual telephones in the state.

Michigan—A union spokesman termed the strike 100 percent effective. Long distance service and the use of some 300,000 manual phones in the state were greatly curtailed.

Washington—Picket lines formed before 38 telephone company buildings in Seattle.

Leased Wires Still Up

New York, April 7—(AP)—The start of the nationwide telephone strike today caused no immediate interruption of operation of leased wires serving the press and radio.

An official of the long lines department of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company said such wires were set up for continuous operation "and there's virtually nothing we have to do to maintain them. It would be many months before the system would fall apart".

However, union spokesmen, predicted that because of the walkout of maintenance workers the communications services would feel the impact of the strike in "less than a week".

Leased wires also are used for ticker services and some business concerns.

Reject Plea to Save Life of Convicted Jew

Jerusalem, April 7—(AP)—The Palestine Supreme court rejected today a plea that the death sentence imposed on Dov Bela Gruner, convicted member of the Jewish underground, be set aside as contrary to the terms of the British mandate in the Holy land.

The plea was filed last week by the Jewish community of Tel Aviv after the privy council in London —Britain's highest court—had refused to consider an appeal filed by Gruner's uncle.

Gruner, a 33-year-old Hungarian Jew and veteran of the British army, was condemned to death last January 1 for participating in an Irgun Zvai Leumi raid on the Ramat Gan police station last May in which two policemen were slain.

Welfare Workers Mine Coal in Utah for Needy People

Orangeville, Utah —(AP)—Half a dozen men daily descend into a bituminous coal mine near here and dig out 100 tons of fuel which is distributed to the needy.

The men, who are sometimes augmented by other miners in the area, get no pay for coal mining. They are regular welfare workers of the Latter Day Saints (Memorial) church.

The mine, one of numerous welfare projects operated by the church, was recently modernized to step up production. A diesel power unit was purchased, taken apart, and carried up the steep mountain slope to the mine entrance, and reassembled.

A trolley, wire system was installed, a water tank built, loading platforms and other equipment overhauled—all by men working without pay.

"Not all of the men, by any means, who helped modernize the mine are members of the church". Leonard E. Adams, general manager of the operation, remarked "Many men, regardless of religious beliefs, have worked long and hard on the project."

A Springville, Utah, contractor, Ernest Strong, who is also chairman of the coal project of the church welfare plan, arranged for the purchase of three new 20-ton trucks which will transport the fuel to families of the Mormon church's million members thruout the west.

The same system is used by the church thruout the welfare plan operations which include farms, canning and clothing factories and livestock operations.

AIRPORT NIGHT SOFTBALL PROPOSED

Bobtales

By BOB FALLSTROM

Glenn Cunningham, the master foot-racer of 'em all, stood backstage at the high school auditorium.

He had just completed a smooth and powerful Easter Sunrise address, shining in the pulpit as he had on the nation's board tracks during the 30's.

What did he think about the much discussed four minute mile?

"Is it possible?" we asked. "I'm sure it's possible," was the reply—this from the man who ran the all-time fastest indoor mile.

"Most runners now in competition are capable of doing it. The limitation is mental not physical. For instance, when I began running they told me nobody would ever clip Paavo Nurmi's 4:10.4 mark.

"I was able to do it. You can do anything you believe in. Confidence plays a big part. I believe if that fact is planted in the minds of our young runners you'll eventually see that four-minute dream come true.

"I won't single out a particular runner because anyone is liable to do it—if he has plenty of the old will to win and the conditions are right."

Glenn Cunningham

As for Cunningham, his spiked shoes are destined to remain in the closet. "I don't plan to do any more running," the well-built athlete and Methodist minister declared. "It was a lot of fun and I enjoyed it for 13 years but it was also hard work."

From 1934 through 1939 he carried a terrific load, running steadily 12 months each year as well as studying at New York university and Kansas U. He also held down a job after school. Weekend trips of 2,500 or 3,000 miles were necessary to compete in the big races.

"I really decided to retire in 1939," Glenn recounts. But I wanted to carry on in the 1940 Olympics in England. Then the games were cancelled and I haven't ran since."

Cunningham had previously chugged the 1,500 meters—corresponding distance to the mile—in two Olympic meets . . . the 1932 extravaganza at Los Angeles and the memorable 1936 games in Berlin. It was in the latter meet the world gained its first knowledge of the iron curtain quietly imposed by then little-known Adolf Hitler.

When Cunningham quit the boards he took along nearly every prize in the book . . . eight NCAA titles, mile championships in all the major "name" meets, 20 miles in less than four minutes ten seconds, the fastest indoor mark of all time.

Many attributed his success to an abnormally slow heart beat and an early accident that almost deprived him of his legs and resulted in a fiery determination to make good on the track.

"They both were factors, yes." Glenn explained. "Most milers have a slow pulse. They may have it to start with but if not, they usually develop it as their conditioning progresses. It enables a runner to take the grueling grind in stride.

"I'm sure running has no ill effects on the heart. It's when a man's activity is over that it's apt to be bad on the ticker. It's important to taper off a running career and continued to exercise in one way or another.

"As a boy, it took me about a year to bring my legs around after a school fire had burned them terribly. I massaged 'em, did cross country work, and everything I could to strengthen them. Maybe the handicap helped.

"You know it's a funny thing, but my legs just wouldn't stand up under the pounding of those California clay tracks. The outside strips were just too hard for me."

As Glenn's photo was being snapped he grinned and confided: "I remember when I won my first big race in the Garden. They wanted to get my picture and where do you suppose they led me . . . to the refrigeration plant! I'm still shivering!"

And that's Glenn Cunningham—athlete, genleman and minister extraordinary. We've never had the pleasure of hearing Gil Dodds, Glenn's successor as mile king and also a gospel star, but it's our impression Glenn is still leading the pack.

PLUM HOLLOW READY

Plum Holow golf course is now ready for action, Frank Dashbach, Sr., operator of the links club, said today.

Daschbach checked the course this morning, finding the fairways well dried out. Although the greens will be out-of-bounds for the present, temporary greens will be mowed for the convenience of local linksmen. Cups will be changed to line up with the substitute greens.

"Golfers are welcome any time," Dasch added.

Jimmy Demaret Masters Winner

Augusta, Ga., April 7 —(AP)—Jimmp Demaret's name is on the list with those of Byron Nelson and Horton Smith today as a double winner in the annual Masters golf tournament here as a result of his two-stroke victory in the 11th playing of the event.

Demaret an ex-Texan now registered out of Ojai, Calif., jumped into the lead at the start of the 72-hole meet over the 6,800-yard national course last Thursday an dwas never headed. He posted a one-under par 71, his fourth consecutive subpar round, in yesterday's final 18-hole to finish with a total of 281.

Nelson, now retired and living at Roanoke, Texas, had a 70 for a 283, while an amateur protege of his, Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, had the days best round with 68 to tie Nelson's total.

Fourth Winter Win

The $2,500 awarded Demaret who first won the title in 1940, brought his money winnings to $13,113 and put him further out front. It was also his fourth victory of the winter tour, which ended with the Masters. He won at Tucson and St. Petersburg and copped the Miami four-ball event with Ben Hogan.

Hogan, runner-up here to Nelson in 1942 and to Herman Keiser of Akron, Ohio, last year, finished with a 70 for a 284 and a fourth place tie with Harold McSpaden of Sanford, Me. McSpaden turned in a 71 on his last round.

Henry Picard of Cleveland, O., and Jim Ferrier of Chicago, finished in a tie for sixth place with 286, while five others—Ed Oliver of Wilmington, Del.; Dick Metz of Arkansas City, Kans., Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, and Tony Penna of Cincinnati—were knotted at 287.

Three Diamond Meets Tonight

Three important baseball meetings are on tap this evening, two in Dixon and a third in Maytown.

Managers of five local clubs and A. C. Bowers huddle at The Dixon Evening Telegraph at 7:30 o'clock to work out Reynolds field practice dates and times.

Bowers, DHS athletic director, has been appointed Reynolds allocator by the park board. It will be his job to parcel out the diamond as fairly as possible.

Managers of other contemplated Dixon hard ball clubs, excluding State Hospital, which has its own park, are invited to attend.

Also at 7:30 o'clock, the Roberts & Hess team confers at the R & H store, 80 Galena avenue. Manager "Speed" Saunders has extended an attendance bid to all players interested in competing with this year's Eastern division Midwest league entry.

* * *

And at Maytown, Manager Harold King has called a special meeting of all players for 7.30 o'clock at the town hall. Maytown is one of seven teams in the Midwest's Central division.

Suggest Loop of Teams in Dixon Area

Plans are now underway to renovate the Airport diamond with a view to re-establish night softball in Dixon, George Reynolds has stated.

Reynolds is prepared to erect grandstands, new lamps and remodel the diamond if a league is formed.

He has suggested a possible alignment of several Dixon teams and outstanding nearby outfits.

Night softball was a war casualty here. However, before 1942, several prosperous seasons were enjoyed at the air field diamond with many Dixon teams participating. Strong out-of-town clubs performed on Sunday evenings, nearly always to capacity gates.

This year, mixed talk has reached The Telegraph sports desk in regard to a softball loop. At one time, it appeared a circuit was almost ready to be revealed. Then the rumors died prematurely and have not been revived—until Reynolds came forward with his policy statement.

Several concerns are said to favor night softball. Whether they will back teams is unknown. Reynolds has instituted the first move and expects to call a confab in the near future.

The only possible drawback to the plan might be an overload of hard ball planned this summer. Six local teams will be fielded, playing in the Midwest and Twilight leagues. With such a setup, softball players could be in the scarce commodity.

Jay Harrison's Chevrolets will be parked in Cal Arold's Town House Thursday night at 7:30, celebrating their championship in the Major league. Jay's guests for the evening will be Floyd Smith, Ned Sack, Cal Arold, Bill Austin and John Lange, team members; Russ Flower, Jay's local manager and yours truly, and we'll probably put in the evening listening to these boys tell how good they are, but we will still remember them as they were on the next to the last night . . . Dale Sennett informs us that there is still room for approximately 30 doubles teams and about 60 singles in the City Association tourney, with quite a few of the boys yet to hear from. This promises to be one of the largest tournaments ever held in Dixon, and a lot of credit is due Ed Worley and Dale Sennett for the hard work they put in to make it a success. All entries must be in by next Saturday, so if you intend to roll in this event you should get your name in to Dale as soon as possible . . . The Blackhawk Proprietors Association have their annual banquet May 13 at which time prizes for the Traveling league, the teams, of which are sponsored by the different proprietors will be awarded. It will be held again at the Oregon Country club, and all the keglers who attended last year and remember the excellent feed put out by the women of the country club are looking forward to it with their mouths watering . . . Arman Bushman, stepping onto the Recreation alleys in the mixed league after a season at Lincoln Lanes, proved last night that a good kegler gets pins anywhere when he crashed up with 583 for his Spares team last night . . . No one was more surprised than Adelaide Johnson when she came up with 201 in her last set, for the Vogue Shop . . . The leagues are all having a fighting finish this season, only one loop among those remaining having the first crashed Jaynes Billiards, in the Lanes Classic loop having that title sewed up. In the Monday night league two more nights will be needed to decide the winner, with the Ladies Girls out in front at present; the I. N. C. loop title will also be decided in the last two nights. In the Classic league three teams, Boynton-Richards, Manhattan Cafe and Dixon Cut Sole can take over if the other two falter, with Myers Royal Blue still having an outside chance

Jim Noakes Legion All-Events Titlist

Polo, Apr. 7—(Special) — Jim Noakes of Polo copped the all events title of the fifth annual American Legion state bowling tournament held in Elgin, March 2-16, according to official scores released today.

Competing with Patrick Fegan Post of Polo, Noakes toppled 1735 pins for nine games rolled in the doubles, singles and team events.

Bob Breckenridge and Martin Thiel placed 10th in the doubles with 1231, while Robert Sweet and Noakes ran 30th with a 1206 total.

In the singles event, Noakes placed 90th in a field of 146 by blasting 615 pins.

George Kaufman, Jr., and Axel Olsen, Jr., also rolled with the Polo boys but failed to place. It marked the first appearance of the local Legion post in such a tournament.

Alice Miller Cops Women's Pin Title

Alice Miller, Leo's spouse, today ruled as Dixon's 1947 women's bowling champ after a 102 pin victory over Etha Dempsey last night at the Recreation.

Alice bumped 688 sticks in four games, including a 202 second game figure, while Etha was toppling only 586 pins in the final city roll-off.

Mrs. Miller thus qualified for the championship tourney of the Blackhawk Bowling Proprieters association along with Ned Sack, new men's titlist.

The Dixon pair's first competition will be at Savanna, April 20 when the city champs from Freeport, Sterling, Polo, Oregon, Mt. Morris and Savanna congregate to begin tourney play. Another session is scheduled for Mt. Morris, April 27.

Mrs. Miller and Sack replace last year's kingpins, Amanda Smith and Orville Hopkins.

The game-by-game totals:

A. Miller 161 202 169 156—688
E. Dempsey 170 138 167 111—586

In the last two evenings; Thursday night Hey Bros., have a comfortable edge but need a couple more wins to put the title on ice; the K. C. loop also will battle down to the last night. Besides the Classic league at the Lanes, Bootmakers of the Freeman Girls league have the pennant clinched with a 10-game lead; the winner in the Vets league tomorrow night, could be decided tomorrow when the Round-Up in front by one game, roll the second-place Lindquist crew. Nixon's in the Wednesday night Girls league, only need to hold their own, while Harmon Township is sitting fairly well with a four-game edge in the Lanes Thursday night loop. If you doubt that it pays to advertise, notice the ad from Harry Slain on this page, which is a testimonial as to results. Harry's a much better ballplayer than he is a bowler, no we'll not put it that way, we'll just leave his bowling out of it and say he's a mighty fine first baseman and we'll wager a coke he has less errors all season on the diamond than he has in one game in the Lincoln Lanes Vets loop.

DUCK DECLINE

Washington, April 7—(AP) Albert M. Day, director of the fish and wildlife service, said today the North American duck-and-geese population has declined to 54,000,000, the lowest since 1938.

The drop during the past year, Day said, was 26,000,000, the sharpest slump on record. The 1945 duck kill was estimated at 23,000,000.

But despite the decline, Day told a reporter, there almost certainly will be a hunting season this fall.

The Audubon society recently recommended that duck-hunting be prohibited this year as a conservation measure.

Day said that both the bag limit and the hunting period may have to be reduced from last season, which itself was cut from 80 to 45 days.

"Our final recommendations, next July, will depend largely upon the conditions at the summer breeding grounds," Day added.

The first duck inventory, in the drought year of 1935, resulted in a count of 27,000,000. The total increased every year to 125,350,000 in 1943, but has been declining sharply for the past three years.

Pro Cage Tourney Quarters Tonight

Chicago, April 7—(AP)—Seven clubs in the National Basketball league and a strong independent team, the Dow Chemical of Midland, Mich., enter the quarterfinals of the invitational cage tornament in Chicago Stadium tonight.

While the seven NBL teams are battling for what is billed as the "world's championship," the Chicago Gears and Rochester Royals, other league members, meet tonight in the Internaional Amphitheater in the third game of their series for their loop's layoff title.

The Stadium tournament round sends the Indianapolis Kautskys against the Tri-City Blackhawks of Moline, Ill., and Dow Chemical against the Toledo Jeeps.

Reds Are Improved Club Prexy Insists

BY FRANK ECK

Tampa, Fla. —(AP)— "The Cincinnati Reds will be a different ball club this year, and you can quote me on that," said Warren C. Giles, president of the Ohio entry in the National League.

But that was only the beginning of a conversation which saw Giles, usually one of the most placid officials in the major leagues, turn on the heat. He first sat there as though the talk floating around the room was correct—several men were picking the Reds to finish deep in the pennant race. But as he sat he not only listened but thumbed through the National League Green Book of facts and figures.

Then, without leaving his seat, Giles literally hit the ceiling and pointed out how the Reds were improved over their sixth place club of the previous season.

"Now it's my turn," said Giles "Bill McKechnie was a grand manager but he played for the single run, usually depending on pitching for a victory. It's going to make a big difference with Johnny Neun managing the team. He plans to bring American League baseball to Cincinnati and in the other league they play for those big innings.

"Why last year we lost 41 ball games by one run, a new high for us. In 1940 we won 40 games by one run. That year we won the pennant.

"So the Phillies pick us near the bottom. Well, if we had just three more runs last year we would have finished ahead of them. They beat us by two games for fifth place.

Galan Big Help

"People had been asking a long time 'when are you going to get a .300 hitting outfielder?' Well now we have one in Augie. Galan of Brooklyn. Galan was one of the seven outfielders in the league to bat .300 or better."

Gabe Paul, Giles' assistant, then came to the aid of his boss by furnishing some additional data on "what happened to the Reds?"

"The type of ball Johnny Neun will have the Reds playing this season will increase our team batting average by 10 percentage points," said Paul. "Why the Reds were in fourth place last summer when we lost our two most important players, third baseman Grady Hatton and shortstop Eddie Miller. They were to us like Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter were to the Cardinals.

Bank On Rookies

Besides Galan filling a gap in the outfield, the Reds are banking on three rookies. Two of them, pitcher Ed Erautt and Frankie Baumholtz, an outfielder may crash the lineup. The other, Ted Kluszewski, brought two gloves along and is willing to play first base or the outfied.

Erautt, is a six foot right hander from Portland, Ore. His fast ball gave him 20 wints with Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League last year. He is 22 and appears ready. His brother, Joe, 25, is at Lakeland hoping to stick with the Detroit Tigers as a catcher.

Erautt got his start in baseball by succeeding Johnny Pesky, Red Sox shortstop, as the Portland clubhouse boy. His dad knew Oscar Vitt, Hollywood pilot, and Vitt gave the boy a chance in 1942. In 1946 Erautt fanned 234 batters in 290 innings and toiled 26 complete games.

Baumholtz starred for the Cleveland Rebels in the Basketball Association of America this winter and shows exceptional promise as a hitter despite the fact that at 161 pounds he is about 13 pounds underweight. The 27-year-old former three-sport star at Ohio U., is slated to play centerfield. He hit .343 for Columbia, S. C., in the class A Sally League last season after serving four years in the Navy.

Another Gehrig?

Kluszewski is built like Lou Gehrig although in early practice he moved around faster than Gehrig did when Lou broke in. If he can play first he has a great future, says Paul, for he seems to be able to hit a ball out of the park.

Kluszewski played end at Indiana U., for two years and the Reds signed him right off the campus, Ted getting a bonus of "over $10,000," for falling in line. In his first year in organized ball last season he led the Sally League hitting .352 for Columbia. He drove in 87 runs in 90 games and hit 11 homers.

Grady Hatton, another star rookie of last year, is certain to be back at third base but the rest of the infield appears unsettled. Miller may not be back at short. Battling for the position are Ben Zientara, whose .289 led the team in hitting, and Kermit Wahl, Lonnie Frey will have competition in Bob Adams or Zientara around second base.

First base is open with Bert Haas and Charley Kress engaging Kluszewski in the three-cornered fight. Haas has the experience but this spring the Reds are looking for hitters.

Historic Debate on Turk, Greek Aid to Open in the Senate

Upper House Seems a Sure Bet to Approve New U. S. Policy

Washington, April 7 —(AP)— Bitter, historic debate begins this week in the senate on United States aid for Greece and Turkey.

The senate seems sure to approve this American adventure which is a new foreign policy.

Simply stated it is this To stop the spread of communism where we can and as we can, starting now

The reality behind the move at this time, brushing aside all vague words and double talk, comes down to this.

1: We have the atom bomb now and we're the strongest nation now. By acting now, we may be able to stop the spread of communism.

2 Russia, lacking the bomb and still suffering from World War II, may not feel strong enough to oppose us vigorously right now

3 If communism spreads and Russia grows stronger, developing her own bomb, it may be too late for us to act later

Wait May Be Fatal

In short Do we act now when we can or wait until perhaps we can't?

President Truman, who says "we much take a positive stand', has asked congress to vote $400,000,000 for Greece and Turkey

Both countries have asked us for help although both countries are a long way from having the kind of democracy we have

But Turkey, with a big army, is prepared to resist pressure from Russia Greek Communists are trying to overthrow the Greek government

Our money and military supplies will help the Greek government crush its Communists and the Turks stand up against Russia.

If Greece goes Communist and Turkey yields to Russian pressure Russia will dominate eastern Europe and the Mediterranean and the Middle-East

George Blasts Russia

Mr Truman and our statesmen, who have to deal with Russia haven't hit directly at Russia in so many words

But Senator George, Georgia Democrat can afford to be more blunt He is He says

'If unchecked, Russia will inevitably overrun Europe, extend herself into Asia and perhaps South America. Non-action will not check Russian expansion".

In a communized world the capitalistic United States hardly would be strong enough for a showdown

Yet, by stepping into Greece and Turkey now, the U. S. may be starting a fire which will end in a war with Russia, when it's stronger

So, in blessing American aid for Greece and Turkey, congress will have to think of the effects 10 or 20 years from now

It will have to consider more than that. How far do we go in this new foreign policy? After Greece and Turkey, what? And how long?

We're Buying Time

As stated before many times by many people, the No 1 problem of our time is can capitalism and communism live peacefully side by side indefinitely?

The world is going through a great revolutionary period, with tremendous changes in governments since World War I

Few democracies today are as democratic as our own, in our sense of the word, with truly representative government and freedom for the individual and for business

Given time and nourishment, such as we'll give Greece, they might move closer to this country's kind of democracy

Most of the world is impoverished with people hungry and disorganized

They are ripe for revolutionary groups such as Communists, who promise them something better than they have

By giving help to a country like Greece, this country is buying time in the hope it will get on its feet But the deep question is

Is time enough? Is help from us to governments now in power enough? Or will the world swing further left and the revolutionary tide move on, in spite of what we try to do to stop it?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 6, was.

"UNREALITY"

The Golden Text was·

"Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire" (Matt. 7·19)

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible·

"Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God· Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began but is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel" (II Tim. 1: 8-10).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy

"This is the doctrine of Christian Science· that divine Love cannot be deprived of its manifestation, or object, that joy cannot be turned into sorrow, for sorrow is not the master of joy, that good can never produce evil, that matter can never produce mind nor life result in death . Suffering sinning, dying beliefs are unreal When divine Science is universally understood, they will have no power over man, for man is immortal and lives by divine authority" (pp 304, 76).

Plan Examinations for Most Illinois Children

Chicago April 7 —(AP)—The examination of thousands of Illinois children in conformity with a new state law was being planned today by the Illinois State Medical society and the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers

Each of the medical society's 90 county branches will be asked to appoint a committee to work with local PTA groups in arranging for the examinations as a principal activity of child health week May 4 to 10

The examinations will be carried out under legislation which requires that physical checkups be made of school children at entrance to the first grade and every four years thereafter

Exceptions are children whose parents object to the examinations on constitutional grounds The law was enacted in 1945 but not put into effect immediately because of the wartime shortage of doctors and dentists

Tuition-Free Chain of Junior Colleges Imperative in State

Education Group Report Needed to Fulfill the Demand of All Youth

Urbana - Champaign Ill — A state system of tuition-free junior colleges in Illinois is imperative to meet the educational needs of all youth, says a report released today through the Bureau of Educational Research at the University of Illinois

Compiled by the Junior College committee of the Curriculum committee of the Illinois Secondary School Principals association, the report states that Illinois ranking fourth in income among the states is well able to afford a system of public colleges to provide an additional two years of education for all high school graduates

Cite G.I. Students

Emphasis is given the fact that unless tuition were free opportunity for extended education would be denied to youth from the lower income brackets

An adequately state-supported system of junior colleges is needed the committee states because of the sharp increase in the number of war veterans who will seek to obtain education above the high school level because of moral committments" by which the University already crowded is bound to accept students from the 30 extension centers throughout the state because of the increased birthrate the increasing number of high school training of a higher grade and the present inadequate provisions for junior colleges

Neew Big Curriculum

To meet the needs of all normal youth the report indicates the junior college must be geared both to the common and the specialized needs This means that youth must be provided with

Commonly needed general education, vocational training in the semi-professions, college preparatory courses for university bound students and adequate guidance and other necessary personnel services for all youth

The committee recommends also, that the junior college should be designed as a community institution providing whatever adult education of less than university grade the public may desire and serving as the cultural center of the community

Have Proved Value

Many junior colleges have successfully demonstrated the report states, that "terminal" students—those terminating advanced education at the end of two years—can be prepared for immediate and effective entrance into business and industry

Junior colleges have taken account of the widespread prevalence of occupations which require two instead of four years of training beyond high school—occupations known as the 'semi professions' and which offer five times as many jobs as do the professions

To train for semi-professions the committee states that present junior colleges find it necessary to offer such courses as agriculture business engineering and technology fine arts health services home economics journalism and public service as well as general cultural courses

Members of the junior college committee are A W Clevenger high school visitor University of Illinois chairman W N Black assistant superintendent of public instruction State of Illinois Hall Hall superintendent Belleville Township high school and junior college H C Hand professor of education University of Illinois and William E McVey superintendent Thornton Township high school, Harvey

Ex-Convict Escapes En Route to Prison

Chicago April 7 —(AP)— Police of Illinois Indiana and Michigan today sought Robert Concanson 31 a parole violator who slugged a parole officer and escaped Saturday night from a Michigan Central train near Porter Ind

Concanson was being returned to the Illinois state penitentiary to finish serving a one to 20 year term for auto theft after having been convicted of theft in Detroit

The parole officer, William Clohsey 60 of Chicago said Concanson slugged him with a manacle pulled an emergency cord to stop the train, and jumped

UN Needs Wisdom of Solomon to End Palestine Troubles

Must Evolve Decision in Line With World View For Success

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

We are more than figuratively close to the truth in remarking that it will require the wisdom of a Solomon to enable the United Nations to reach a satisfactory solution of the bitter Arab-Jewish differences in Palestine

The literature of both Jews and Mohammedans through the centuries has credited King Solomon with being the wisest of men If Arabs and Jews still agree on this point it's probably the only thing upon which they do see eye to eye So it's clear that the sages of the peace organization must exercise the highest degree of wisdom if they are to succeed

Puts U N on Trial

That puts the United Nations itself in a big way It calls upon it to demonstrate whether it is capable of settling a great international issue which for thirty years not only has failed to respond to British remedies but has grown steadily worse

I've been studying this volcanic situation ever since its inception much of the time at close range and believe that psychologically it has deteriorated so much that the Jews and Arabs probably never would accept any British decision Some observers hold that Britain and America together might have succeeded in settling the issue a year ago, but even that possibility no longer seems to exist

Still, the position isn't without hope If the United Nations can evolve a program which will be acceptable to world opinion as represented in the organization then the Arabs and Jews are more likely to accept it Indeed they undoubtedly would hesitate to go against world opinion

British View Unknown

So far as England is concerned she hasn't decided to relinquish the mandate over Palestine and wouldn't necessarily consider U N recommendations as binding on her She isn't saying in advance that she will implement a U N program As a matter of fact she already has made it clear that she would be unable to furnish more troops or money for Palestine and thus would be unable to comply with any plans which called on her for these things

However it is said in well informed U N circles that England would accept a big majority decision by the United Nations even though she might not accept the same decision on a close vote

As the U N tackles this highly controversial issue there is at least one favorable aspect So far as the peace organization is concerned the question is fresh It isn't for instance, like the Greek problem which already has produced a split among the powers before it arose in the U N

Need Big 5 Unity

Of course success must be premised on agreement among the big five—America Britain Russia France and China And that may not be too easy to achieve since these countries except China have interests in the Levant If it came to the use of military force this would have to be provided by the big five since U N has none of its own as yet and a veto by one of the great powers would skwnie the project

The U N starts with a clean slate in trying to settle this Palestine difficulty with its many ramifications Theres nothing in sight for a solution and there is much organization to be carried out before active search for a new plan can be undertaken
